"Saint Lucia is shifting rapidly into manufacturing as a core sector."

Saint Lucia is shifting rapidly into manufacturing as a core sector. “Made In Saint Lucia” is not just a label, but a mandate that is enacted by active support and incentivizing of manufacturing companies to achieve international standards that meet export requirements. The island has industrial zones, free zones and the best shipping ports in the OECS. You can make your products here and export with ease to anywhere in the world.

The island has an abundance of natural resources and plant biodiversity that can be used in myriad ways, including for traditional and herbal medicines. Indeed, our top merchandise exporters have all in some way harnessed this biodiversity in their world class, award- winning products.
